

of all descriptions sunk and captured by Admiral Togo's fleet now stands at nineteen. It is possible that three additional warships were sunk in the fight Saturday and others later.

The Navy Department officials, however, from crediting reports of this nature until it is assured of their correctness. It is believed the Ural is the name of the captured transport, which has been omitted in the list previously called.

9:15 P. M.—Tokio celebrates Japan's great naval victory tonight. The main thoroughfares, streets and leading government buildings of the capital are thronged with joyous, cheering crowds. Impromptu processions move in various directions.

The parades carried lanterns and went singing through the streets, following bands. Plans are afoot for an organized formal celebration of Togo's victory.

RUSSIAN SHIPS HAUL DOWN THEIR FLAGS

Togo Forced Fleet Toward Japan Coast—Important Events Now Proceeding.

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, May 29.—The Tokyo correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says a Russian warship has arrived off Iwami, on the southeast coast of Japan, and hoisted the white flag. The dispatch says that 200 men and officers, many of whom were wounded, are being assisted by the Japanese Red Cross there.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Morning Post, in a dispatch dated May 29th, says:

"The Russian transports off Woo Sung, hauled down their flags today."

According to the correspondent of the Daily Mail at Seoul, Korea, early on Saturday morning Admiral Togo, with practically all the powerful fighting ships of the Japanese navy, was at Sasamipo, Korea, when wireless signals from his scouts between Tsu and Quelpart Islands announced the approach of the Russian fleet in full force.

A few hours later the scouts reported that the Russians were not ascending the western channel, as had been anticipated, but that they were coming up the eastern channel, which caused some surprise.

Admiral Togo immediately started at full speed round the north of Tsu Island, and when he doubled the island he saw the Russians coming in two columns. He then brought a terrific fire to bear on the flank of the port column, and as the Russians fell into disorder he forced them steadily eastward towards the Japanese coast, where they were attacked by every vessel that flew the Japanese flag. Repeated torpedo attacks were delivered, some of them with the greatest success.

The vessels which escaped, the correspondent says, will probably be able to reach Vladivostok, and he adds that other operations of the utmost importance are proceeding.

The Tokyo correspondent of the Daily Mail says that the Russians apparently supposed that the Japanese base was at the Pescadores, as they carefully avoided passing these islands and pursued a round about course before entering Tsu channel.

STORY OF BATTLE TOLD IN REPORTS

Two Attacks Made—Many Russian Ships Being Sunk or Captured.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29.—The following official report from Tokyo was received at the Japanese legation today:

"Reports received from Admiral Togo, at the Japanese headquarters: 'The Japanese fleet received morning May 27. Immediately upon the receipt of report that Russian squadron was in sight, our combined squadron started for attack. Weather is fine to-day, but very heavy sea.'"

"Second report received night May 27. Combined squadron attacked Russian squadron to-day, near Okhotsk (south-east of Tsushima) and defeated it, sinking at least four ships and inflicting heavy damage upon others. Damage to our ships is insignificant. Our destroyers and torpedo flotillas delivered attack after sunset."

"Third report received Monday, May 29. Main force of our combined squadron continued pursuit since the 27th, and attacked 28th, near Liancourt rocks (north-east of Okhotsk) a Russian squadron consisting of Nicholas I. (battleship), Orel (battleship), Senyavin, Apraxin and Izumrud (cruisers), and several smaller vessels. According to statements of prisoners, vessels sunk, in engagement May 28, were: Borodino, a battleship, and the Russian cruiser, Zhemchug and three other ships. Rear-Admiral Nebogatov and about 2,000 other Russians were taken prisoner. The latter were damaged, suffered by enemy in addition to those given above since commencement of battle as reported by commandant of our ships. The immediate command of Togo and his observation stations."

"Sunk—Admiral Nachimoff, Dmitrii Tzouk, Svetlana, Orel, Zhemchug, Kamchatka, Irutshish, and three destroyers."

"Captured—Vladimir Monomakh, founded after capture, one special service ship, whose name is unknown, and one destroyer captured."

"Russian ships definitely known so far may be classified as follows: 'Two battleships, one coast defense ship, five cruisers, two special ships, three destroyers were sunk; one battleship, two coast defense ships, one special service ship, one destroyer were captured. It is not yet clear whether three vessels as stated by prisoners to have been sunk are included or not in above list. There are more than 1,000 prisoners besides 2,000 taken by main force of combined squadron."

"The naval engagement is still in progress so that it will take some time before the final results can be known."

MANY DEAD AND INJURED.

(By Associated Press.) NAKHICHEVAN, GOVERNMENT OF ERIVAN, TRANS-Caucasia, May 29.—This government has been almost in a state of anarchy for days. A massacre of Armenians by the Tartar population is proceeding here and in the surrounding villages. The streets are filled with dead and wounded. The Tartars are not only attacking but pillaging and burning the houses of Christians. The number of victims is not established, but exceeds one hundred dead, including a priest. The butchery is reported to be still more dreadful in the villages. It is feared that the Tartar Kurds will join the Tartars. The authorities are powerless to cope with the situation.

anece and Russian fleets was received at the State Department today in the following cablegram from Minister Griscom, dated Tokyo, May 29th:

"Admiral Togo has informed his government concerning the fight which took place on Saturday afternoon and Sunday evening. According to his report, the Japanese fleet under his command destroyed and sunk one battleship of the Borodino class and four other large Russian war vessels. Two or three were captured. None of the large Japanese men-of-war received serious injury."

"The battle was still in progress on Sunday. A great Japanese victory is announced here as the general result of the engagement but few details have been received."

A few hours later the scouts reported that the Russians were not ascending the western channel, as had been anticipated, but that they were coming up the eastern channel, which caused some surprise.
